Fixed-Income Sector Commentary – 1Q 2025

- ▶ The Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) opted to maintain the target range for the federal funds rate at 4.25-4.5% during both meetings in Q1, citing sticky inflation, a stable unemployment rate, and 'solid' labor market conditions.
- ▶ U.S. Treasury yields moved lower over the quarter as the 2-year Treasury yield fell 34 bps and 10-year Treasuries fell 37 bps. The change in yields reflected ongoing market sensitivity to domestic policy uncertainty, with a continued focus on the potential impacts of taxes, tariffs, immigration, and deregulation. As a result of the Treasury rally, total returns were strong for the period.
- ▶ Federal Agency & supranational spreads remained low and rangebound throughout Q1. Federal agencies produced modestly negative excess returns while supranationals were slightly positive. Issuance remained quite light and the incremental income from the sectors is near zero.
- ▶ Investment-Grade (IG) corporate bonds posted strong relative returns yet again as increased issuance levels were met with robust investor demand. Much of the spread widening seen during the second half of the quarter was offset by higher incremental income. From an excess return perspective, higher-quality and shorter-duration issuers outperformed in general in Q1. Financials and banking issuers continued to lead most other industries across the yield curve during the quarter.
- ▶ Asset-Backed Securities spreads widened modestly from the impact of heavy new issuance levels and a modest deterioration of credit fundamentals. ABS spreads widened more than corporate spreads, resulting in worse performance over the quarter but better relative value going forward.
- ▶ Mortgage-Backed Securities performance was mixed across structure and coupon during Q1 as heightened rate volatility persisted. In contrast, Agency-backed commercial MBS (CMBS) performed better for the quarter and saw positive excess returns across collateral and coupon structures.
- ▶ Short-term credit (commercial paper and negotiable bank CDs) yields on the front end fell in response to downward pressure from a paydown in the supply of U.S. Treasury Bills. Yield spreads tightened over the quarter in response to moderated issuance and strong demand.

Fixed-Income Sector Outlook – 2Q 2025

- ▶ U.S. Treasury volatility is expected to continue given both fiscal and monetary policy uncertainty. The potential impact of further policy changes on economic growth, inflation, and the labor market are unknown. We expect to see an ongoing steepening of the yield curve given the expectation for future Fed rate cuts.
- ▶ Federal Agency & Supranational spreads are likely to remain at tight levels. Government-heavy accounts may find occasional value on an issue-by-issue basis, particularly in supranationals as issuance increases in early Q2.
- ▶ Taxable Municipals continue to see little activity due to an ongoing lack of supply and strong demand which continues to suppress yields in both the new issue and secondary markets. We expect few opportunities in the near term.
- ▶ Investment-Grade Corporate bond fundamentals remain favorable while technicals have weakened on the margins. A protracted trade war and resulting hit to growth could weaken credit fundamentals and technicals. Valuations have repriced from narrow levels to reflect this uncertainty. We will selectively evaluate opportunities with a focus on industry and credit quality with an eye towards tactically reducing allocations in the sector to make room for future opportunities.
- ▶ Asset-Backed Securities fundamentals remain intact and credit metrics have normalized. Consumer credit trends will depend on the labor market and the consumer's response to monetary policy easing, which tends to work on a lag. We expect spreads to remain choppy heading into Q2 despite the stability in underlying technicals and view this as an opportunity to add allocations at more attractive levels.
- ▶ Mortgage-Backed Securities are expected to produce muted excess returns in Q2 as policy uncertainty may increase volatility. We may use any meaningful spread widening to add at more attractive levels.
- ▶ Short-term credit (commercial paper and negotiable bank CDs) spreads in Q2 will likely depend on changes to debt ceiling dynamics or the Fed's decision to slow the pace of quantitative tightening. Given the positively sloped shape of the money market yield curve, we favor a mix of floating rate in the front end with fixed rate in longer maturities.

● Current outlook

○ Outlook one quarter ago

Factors to Consider for 6-12 Months

Monetary Policy (Global):

- The Fed paused its easing cycle in the first quarter given sticky inflation and the solid labor market. While the FOMC's "dot plot" continues to suggest 50 bps in rate cuts by the end of 2025, Fed Chair Powell indicated there is heightened risk and uncertainty due to the new administration's policies.
- Other major central banks (excluding the Bank of Japan) continued to cut rates. However, inflation remains a risk to this trend continuing, particularly in light of tariff uncertainty.

Economic Growth (Global):

- U.S. economic growth remained steady in 2024, but worsening consumer sentiment may weigh on spending going forward.
- Pro-growth fiscal policies proposed on the campaign trail have yet to be realized, leaving rapidly changing tariff policy to weigh on growth prospects.
- Escalating trade tensions create the potential for slowing global growth.

Inflation (U.S.):

- Progress towards the Fed's 2% target remains stalled with goods inflation moving higher even before tariff policies were enacted.
- Consumer expectations for inflation over the next 12 months have now reached their highest levels since early 2023 on tariff concerns.
- Fed Chair Powell said the data are not yet reflecting tariffs and reiterated it will be difficult to directly measure the impact of these policies on prices.

Financial Conditions (U.S.):

- Financial conditions remained supportive in the first half of the quarter but tightened as ongoing tariff risks weighed on equity prices and credit spreads. While credit spreads widened modestly during the first quarter they remain below historic averages.
- The evolving fiscal landscape and growing uncertainty may lead to tightening financial conditions over the next 6-12 months.

Consumer Spending (U.S.):

- Sentiment has meaningfully deteriorated as consumers expect higher prices and weaker labor market conditions as tariffs weigh on the pace of economic growth.
- A material deterioration of labor market conditions remains the biggest risk factor to consumer spending. Other headwinds may include slower real wage growth and reduced willingness to spend as prices move higher due to tariffs.

Labor Markets:

- The labor market remains surprisingly resilient with both initial jobless claims and the unemployment rate at historically low levels. Monthly job gains continue to keep pace with labor force growth.
- With hiring and quits rates low, any acceleration in layoffs may result in job seekers remaining unemployed for longer.
- Federal job cuts and funding freezes could impact the hiring plans of sectors such as healthcare and higher education which rely on government funding. The impact of immigration policy remains unknown.

PFMAM professionals have exercised reasonable professional care in the preparation of this performance report. Information in this report is obtained from sources external to PFMAM and is generally believed to be reliable and available to the public; however, we cannot guarantee its accuracy, completeness or suitability. We rely on the client's custodian for security holdings and market values. Transaction dates reported by the custodian may differ from money manager statements. While efforts are made to ensure the data contained herein is accurate and complete, we disclaim all responsibility for any errors that may occur. References to particular issuers are for illustrative purposes only and are not intended to be recommendations or advice regarding such issuers. Fixed income manager and index characteristics are gathered from external sources. When average credit quality is not available, it is estimated by taking the market value weights of individual credit tiers on the portion of the strategy rated by a NRSRO.

It is not possible to invest directly in an index. The index returns shown throughout this material do not represent the results of actual trading of investor assets. Third-party providers maintain the indices shown and calculate the index levels and performance shown or discussed. Index returns do not reflect payment of any sales charges or fees an investor would pay to purchase the securities they represent. The imposition of these fees and charges would cause investment performance to be lower than the performance shown.
