I was recommended by Mayor Erica Zweifel to consider applying to serve on the NTAC and Planning Commission, particularly due to my interest in Urban Planning and Transportation Equity.

I have experience in GIS data extrapolation, historiographical cartography, archiving and applied library sciences and have a theoretical grounding in Sociology. Overall, I am excited to support Northfielders develop their connections to Greater Southeastern Minnesota, as well as internally, both in a transportation and a socioeconomic manifest. I have worked as a docent in Printing History at a museum out-of-state, and have volunteered as a digitization assistant at the Rice County Historical Society. Coming from a major city well known for its transportation inequities, I understand how size and funding do not automatically constitute implementation efficacy. I believe that Northfield, just as any other city, has the potential and the obligation to provide equitable modes of mobility, integration, and interaction.
