Market Update

Economic Growth Rebounds Amid Sticky Inflation

Fed Chair Powell: "While the unemployment rate remains low, it has edged up, job gains have slowed, and downside risks to employment have risen. At the same time, inflation has risen recently and remains somewhat elevated. Recent indicators suggest that growth of economic activity has moderated."

Fed Chair Powell: "Retailers and importers are not passing along the impact of the tariffs to consumers that much. So the actual effects on inflation have been quite modest ... It's retailers and importers absorbing most of the cost."

AGENCY BULLETS

CALLABLE AGENCIES

SUPRANATIONALS

Reduce Allocations

Summary:

- Spreads remain rich, especially in the 1– 5y area, trading near or through Treasuries
- Limited issuance outside of 12 months continues to suppress spreads while demand remains strong

Outlook:

- · Spreads expected to remain tight
- Maintain low allocations in favor of other sectors
- Continue to monitor ongoing privatization efforts of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac

Reduce Allocations

Summary:

- Front-end spreads remained stable amid low volatility
- Lower rates have driven a wave of redemptions and increased callable issuance
- Valuations remain rich across the front end

Outlook:

 Evaluate callables cautiously with a preference for longer lockouts

Reduce Allocations

Summary:

- Spreads remain near historic lows offering 5-10 bps over federal agency bullets in 1-5y area
- Bonds continue to be well bid despite limited month-to-date supply

Outlook:

- Expect supply to increase through October before year-end slowdown
- Continue evaluating new issues, especially for constrained accounts
- Opportunistically sell for rebalancing or sector rotation

Corporate Sector Strategy

Fundamentals:

- · Corporate balance sheets remain strong and default risk is low
- Increased M&A activity poses idiosyncratic risks but is not expected to pressure the broader market
- Economic backdrop remains supportive with recession risks appearing limited
- Risks include persistent inflation, slower growth, and less accommodative Fed policy
- · Political uncertainty and potential punitive policies could weigh on sentiment
- · Look to retain flexibility to add allocations if spreads widen

Technicals:

- · Supply has been well absorbed with new issuance expected to be the primary source of opportunity
- · Falling yields may prompt buyers to lock in stillattractive front-end yields
- Short-term credit offers a favorable alternative to historically narrow longer-duration spreads
- · Carry and curve rolldown are expected to drive excess returns
- · Secondary market liquidity remains healthy, supporting tactical adjustments

Short (<5 year) Corporates:

Opportunistically trim

Longer Corporates:

Maintain underweight (contribution to duration) vs. benchmarks

Valuations:

- Short-term credit spreads are narrow but not at historic tights
- · Longer-duration credit is extremely rich with spreads at tightest levels since late '90s
- Lower-rated spreads at multi-decade tights; breakevens are snug on the long end
- · IG credit remains rich relative to agency MBS and other sectors
- Taxable munis and certain industries (e.g., autos, pharma, tech) appear cheap
- · Modestly lower yields not expected to have significant impact on demand

AGENCY MBS

Reduce allocations in longer-duration strategies

Summary:

- Decline in mortgage rates is boosting prepayments in 6%+ coupons
- 2025 net supply projected to modestly decline
- Valuations have richened; OASs now at narrowest levels since 22Q3

Outlook:

- Reduce allocations to 15-yrs and lowercoupon 30-yrs in longer-duration accounts
- Volatility expected to increase due to economic and political uncertainty
- Sector likely to underperform over near term

AGENCY CMBS

Maintain allocations

Summary:

- Spreads little changed; strong returns YTD
- Fundamentals are weak but stabilizing with soft rent growth and rising vacancies
- Secondary market activity remains light with low dealer inventory

Outlook:

- Increased new issuance expected in October
- Valuations are below historical averages and look cheap to other sectors
- Sector expected to perform well if/when volatility increases

ASSET-BACKED

Maintain allocations

Summary:

- Prime ABS fundamentals remain stable; credit metrics have normalized and structures remain resilient to recession scenarios
- Decline in all-in yields may lead to spread widening and softer demand

Outlook:

- New issuance expected to taper after October, potentially offering technical support
- Carry expected to be driver of excess returns
- Spread widening possible on heightened economic and political risks

Market Update

Fixed - Income Sector Outlook - 4Q 2025

Fixed-Income Sector Commentary – 3Q 2025

- ► The Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) lowered the target range for the federal funds rate to 4.00-4.25% during the September 17th meeting, citing weakening in the labor market.
- U.S. Treasury yields across all maturities moved lower over the quarter. The change in yields reflected ongoing market sensitivity to the Fed, with concerns regarding the labor market taking center stage amid ongoing weakness. As a result of the Treasury rally, total returns were positive for the quarter.
- Federal Agency & supranational spreads remained low and traded in a narrow range throughout Q3. Excess returns remained muted in part due to limited issuance, which is a trend we expect to continue.
- Investment-Grade (IG) corporate bonds generated strong excess returns as spreads narrowed to multiyear lows across most maturities. Lower-quality and longer-duration bonds led performance, supported by strong investor demand.

- Asset-Backed Securities spreads tightened but remain modestly elevated versus 12-month lows. While excess returns were positive, they lagged those of IG corporates. Auto loan collateral modestly outperformed credit card-backed securities.
- Agency-backed mortgage-backed securities
 (MBS) delivered solid performance with positive
 excess returns across the board. Longer-duration
 MBS stood out as a top-performing IG sector in Q3.
 Agency-backed commercial MBS (CMBS) also posted positive excess returns for the quarter.
- Short-term credit (commercial paper and negotiable bank CDs) yields declined as Treasury issuance surged and the Fed cut rates. Short-end yield spreads widened over the quarter and demand remained strong as investors viewed the sector as a hedge against future rate cuts.

The views expressed within this material constitute the perspective and judgment of PFM Asset Management at the time of distribution (09/30/2025) and are subject to change. Fixed-Income Sector Outlook - 4Q 2025

- U.S. Treasury volatility is expected to increase from multi-year lows given both fiscal and monetary policy uncertainty. The potential collective impact of further policy changes on economic growth, inflation, and labor markets are unknown. We expect to see an ongoing steepening of the yield curve given the expectation for future Fed rate cuts.
- ► Federal Agency & Supranational spreads are likely to remain at tight levels. Government-heavy accounts may find occasional value on an issue-by-issue basis.
- Taxable Municipals continue to see little activity due to an ongoing lack of supply and strong demand which continues to suppress yields in both the new issue and secondary markets. We expect few opportunities in the near term.
- Investment-Grade (IG) Corporate bond fundamentals and valuations weakened while technicals have improved modestly. We will evaluate opportunities with a focus on industry fundamentals and issuer credit quality while identifying rich holdings to tactically reduce allocations.

- Asset-Backed Securities fundamentals remain intact and credit metrics have normalized. Consumer credit trends will depend on the labor market and the consumer's response to monetary policy easing, which tends to work on a lag. We expect spreads to continue to exhibit volatility with a bias towards widening, while low issuance in Q4 will support technicals in the sector.
- Mortgage-Backed Securities are expected to underperform over the short term with spreads at their narrowest levels in 3-years. We may use any meaningful spread widening to add at more attractive levels.
- Short-term credit (commercial paper and negotiable bank CDs) spreads in Q4 will continue to be primarily driven by expectations about monetary policy decisions by the FOMC. Given the positively sloped shape of the money market yield curve, we favor a mix of floating rate securities in the front end and fixed rate securities in longer maturities.

Factors to Consider for 6-12 Months

Monetary Policy (Global):

- The Fed cut rates by 25 bps in September citing rising downside risks to employment despite inflation remaining above its 2% target. This was the Fed's first rate cut since December 2024.
- The "dot plot" signals 50 bps in additional cuts for 2025, though views remain split, with 7 members favoring no additional cuts in 2025.
- Major central banks have already eased (ECB and BOE) or are in the process of further easing (U.S. and Canada) except for the BOJ slowly tightening policy after decades of easy monetary policy.

Economic Growth (Global):

- Consumer spending and business investment remain strong despite growing softness in the labor market.
- Trade tensions, elevated tariffs and a prolonged U.S. government shutdown remain key downside risks to growth, while Al driven investment and fiscal support in some regions provide partial offsets.

Inflation (U.S.):

Inflation accelerated in Q3 led by rising goods prices and sticky services costs, keeping core inflation closer to 3%, well above the Fed's 2% target.

- Fed projections show a longer timeline for inflation to reach its 2% target.
- Fed Chair Powell noted tariffs have begun to push up goods prices in some categories, but the base case is for these effects to be short-lived.

Financial Conditions (U.S.):

- Financial conditions eased as tariff announcements were digested. This sparked renewed market confidence which resulted in equities reaching new all-time highs and credit spreads tightening to historically narrow levels.
- Fiscal uncertainty and geopolitical risks could reintroduce tighter financial conditions over the next 6-12 months.

Consumer Spending (U.S.):

- However, consumer activity remained resilient, driven by spending from higher income households.
- Consumer confidence improved slightly but remains below historical averages, reflecting concerns over slower hiring and inflation persistence.
- Further labor market softness, a significant correction in the equity market or more complete pass-through of tariffs into consumer prices remain the largest threats to consumer spending.

Labor Markets (U.S.):

- Labor market conditions continued to cool with net new job creation nearing zero while being concentrated in just a few service sectors.
- Despite some signs of cooling, the layoff rate remains low and points towards employers adopting what has been characterized as a "no hire, no fire" approach.
- The unemployment rate ticked up modestly, job openings declined further, and the quits rate remain subdued, signaling reduced worker leverage.
- Initial jobless claims remain low, but longer job search durations suggest labor market conditions continue to loosen.

This material is for general information purposes only and is not intended to provide specific advice or a specific recommendation, as it was prepared without regard to any specific objectives or financial circumstances.

PFMAM professionals have exercised reasonable professional care in the preparation of this performance report. Information in this report is obtained from sources external to PFMAM and is generally believed to be reliable and available to the public; however, we cannot guarantee its accuracy, completeness or suitability. We rely on the client's custodian for security holdings and market values. Transaction dates reported by the custodian may differ from money manager statements. While efforts are made to ensure the data contained herein is accurate and complete, we disclaim all responsibility for any errors that may occur. References to particular issuers are for illustrative purposes only and are not intended to be recommendations or advice regarding such issuers. Fixed income manager and index characteristics are gathered from external sources. When average credit quality is not available, it is estimated by taking the market value weights of individual credit tiers on the portion of the strategy rated by a NRSRO.

It is not possible to invest directly in an index. The index returns shown throughout this material do not represent the results of actual trading of investor assets. Third-party providers maintain the indices shown and calculate the index levels and performance shown or discussed. Index returns do not reflect payment of any sales charges or fees an investor would pay to purchase the securities they represent. The imposition of these fees and charges would cause investment performance to be lower than the performance shown.

The views expressed within this material constitute the perspective and judgment of PFMAM at the time of distribution and are subject to change. Any forecast, projection, or prediction of the market, the economy, economic trends, and equity or fixed-income markets are based upon certain assumptions and current opinion as of the date of issue and are also subject to change. Some, but not all assumptions are noted in the report. Assumptions may or may not be proven correct as actual events occur, and results may depend on events outside of your or our control. Changes in assumptions may have a material effect on results. Opinions and data presented are not necessarily indicative of future events or expected performance.

Important Disclosures

- Generally, PFMAM's market prices are derived from closing bid prices as of the last business day of the month as supplied by ICE Data Services. There may be differences in the values shown for investments due to accrued but uncollected income and the use of differing valuation sources and methods. Non-negotiable FDIC-insured bank certificates of deposit are priced at par. Although PFMAM believes the prices to be reliable, the values of the securities may not represent the prices at which the securities could have been bought or sold. Explanation of the valuation methods for a registered investment company or local government investment program is contained in the appropriate fund offering documentation or information statement.
- In accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, information is presented on a trade date basis; forward settling purchases are included in the monthly balances, and forward settling sales are excluded.
- Performance is presented in accordance with the CFA Institute's Global Investment Performance Standards (GIPS). Unless otherwise noted, performance is shown gross of fees. Quarterly returns are presented on an unannualized basis. Returns for periods greater than one year are presented on an annualized basis. Past performance is not indicative of future returns.
- ICE Bank of America Indices provided by Bloomberg Financial Markets.
- Money market fund/cash balances are included in performance and duration computations.
- Standard & Poor's is the source of the credit ratings. Distribution of credit rating is exclusive of money market fund/LGIP holdings.
- Callable securities in the portfolio are included in the maturity distribution analysis to their stated maturity date, although, they may be called prior to maturity.
- MBS maturities are represented by expected average life.
