

Creative Placemaking Subcommittee - November report

The subcommittee members met on November 30th to resume conversations about the development of a Northfield Art Walk in collaboration with local teachers. Subcommittee members in attendance were Natalie Draper, Teresa Jensen, Matt Klooster, and Juliane Shibata. Heather Lawrenz could not attend the meeting but shared information about the art pieces profiled on the art walk map prior to the meeting. This information included recommended edits to the map proposed by Teresa and Natalie based on their experience of walking the recommended route. The team discussed profiling select art pieces on the back of the map with a photo and brief narrative about each piece, and the team divided responsibilities for researching and developing these narratives and acquiring images. Additionally, the team developed a tentative deadline to finalize the project by spring break 2022. We have agreed to not meet during the month of December and to resume our subcommittee meetings in January of 2022.

All my best,

Matt
