

Living Treasure Update
October 2018

I am in the process of updating the press release announcing the request for nominations for the 2019 Living Treasure Award. Last year, the panel of Living Treasure recipients indicated their commitment to encouraging members of the community to place names in nomination. I am following up with them to determine whether or not any progress has been made in that regard.

As suggested by the ACC Committee assessing our projects, I am exploring an ACC partnership with FiftyNorth (formerly the Senior Center) as we work to gain greater visibility for the Living Treasure project in the Northfield community. I'm pleased to report that I have a meeting scheduled next week with Director Lynne Pederson and two members of her staff.

I ask Commissioners to please consider members of the arts community to be placed in nomination and encourage possible nominators. We have one nomination on file from last year that is still active.

Respectfully submitted,
Bonnie Jean Flom
