

Art in City Hall report
May 13, 2019

The exhibit, The State of Water, is up and running in City Hall. It is a strong show, featuring bog photographs by Meg Ojala. Nine other artists are showing works ranging from prints to a silk painting with collage, oil, cold wax, and acrylic paintings, pastel drawings and photographs.

Thanks to the expansion of criteria from artists who live within the Northfield school district to artists who live and/or work within the school district, 5 artists, who have not here-to-for exhibited in City Hall are included.

The reception will be held from 5 – 6 on June 11, just prior to the City Council meeting.

Thanks to Rob Shanilac for the labels, Kathy Rush for managing the poster, the application process, and the letters of acceptance, to Heather for being a huge part of everything.

This exhibit runs through December 31, 2019.
