

Program report for Youth on Boards:

At last month's Youth on Boards meeting, there was a presentation from Dave Bennett about the trail system expansion followed by small group discussions about how to improve the riverfront and encourage voting in the upcoming election. As for arts in the high school, choir, band, and orchestra are all moving forward with in-person rehearsals. Choir and orchestra are also planning to record virtual concerts later in the semester. The theatre department is putting on War of the Worlds this fall and the show will be staged in the NHS auditorium as a socially distanced radio play. Visual arts classes are less effected by covid and, aside from smaller class sizes, are taking place as usual. As individuals, we have enjoyed learning new arts-related skills such as playing guitar and painting over quarantine.
