

PUBLIC ART REPORT –Submitted by Teresa Jensen

- Selected PARC members for the public art sculpture by John Sterner will be contacted this week to participate in an initial meeting to agree upon the purpose and goals for input on this commissioned work. John's projected date of installation/capstone will coincide with Defeat of Jesse James Days, the weekend after Labor Day in September.
- Jan Krause of The Award Centre on Division Street has retired; Jan is the person we regularly worked with to create commemorative plaques for public art. Devin Johnson of Makeshift Accessories will be taking over her clientele. We had submitted text to Jan for the Threshold sculpture on the west side of the river, with an initial pricing and proofs submitted; after the December ACC meeting and at the direction of the ACC members, we revised the plaque with the addition of the new ACC 1% for the Arts logo, plus the city of Northfield logo to be included. We were waiting for a response from her supplier for new pricing and for an image of the 1% logo that would represent the look of the logo in a plaque. Alice Thomas and Teresa Jensen will be contacting Devin to restart this process.
