All,

Cynthia wanted you to know that she replied with the following message, and that we are hoping to stay in communication with the group so that we can get any misunderstandings cleared up.

Cecilia,

It sounds like you took my comments at the meeting earlier this month to be the view of the entire ACC, but that is definitely not the case. I was speaking only for myself. (You refer to me as the "leadership," but honestly I'm just the person who runs the meetings because someone has to do it!)

I know for a fact that some of the ACC members at that meeting see things differently from me, and I've also talked to some members who told me they were still thinking things over and forming their opinions. Plus, three members were not there, so their views were not expressed. When you consider all of that, I hope you see that no majority view has yet been expressed, or, perhaps, even formed.

Our work moves pretty slowly, since we are volunteers who meet only once a month (and occasionally fail to make quorum!), so I expect that you are probably getting tired of waiting. I assure you, however, that we will eventually work through this and that the end result is not yet known.

Also, I would be happy to talk to you live about this if you'd like to plan a meeting or a phone call.
